Mary Kept All These Things in Her Heart

By Kathryn Mulderink

Mary and Joseph were not given an easy path. They faced uncertainty, traveled far from home, and found no warm, clean place to welcome their Child. Jesus, the King of the Universe, was laid in a manger—an animals' feeding trough—reflecting the depth of His humility.

The first witnesses of this profound event were shepherds, living on the fringes of society. Considered unclean by observant Jews, they were blessed with an angelic proclamation and rushed to find the Savior with Mary and Joseph. In that humble stable, they encountered the first "church," glorifying and praising God for His fulfillment of the Promise. They shared the news, amazed by what they had seen, though the Gospel leaves us wondering if others responded with the same urgency.

The Gospel does tell us, however, about Mary's heart: "Mary kept all these things, reflecting on them in her heart." Without a step-by-step plan for raising the Messiah, Mary and Joseph lived day by day in faith, listening to God's guidance in dreams and the quiet depths of their hearts. Mary embraced the unfolding mystery with loving trust, repeating her "yes" to God even in uncertainty and pain, never withdrawing her faith.

As we honor Mary, the Mother of God, on this eighth day of Christmas, let us follow her example. Like Mary, may we ponder God's actions in our lives with trust and obedience, and, like the shepherds, eagerly draw near to the manger, where God's gentle love shines brightly. Let us also embrace Mary as our mother, the precious gift Christ gave us from the Cross, and ask her to guide us ever closer to her Son.

María Guardaba Todas Estas Cosas en su Corazón

Por Kathryn Mulderink

María y José no tuvieron un camino fácil. Enfrentaron incertidumbre, viajaron lejos de casa y no encontraron un lugar cálido y limpio para recibir a su Hijo. Jesús, el Rey del Universo, fue acostado en un pesebre, un comedero para animales, lo que refleja la profundidad de Su humildad.

Los primeros testigos de este profundo acontecimiento fueron pastores que vivían al margen de la sociedad. Considerados impuros por los judíos observantes, fueron bendecidos con una proclamación angelical y corrieron a buscar al Salvador con María y José. En ese humilde establo, encontraron la primera "iglesia", glorificando y alabando a Dios por Su cumplimiento de la Promesa. Compartieron la noticia, asombrados por lo que habían visto, aunque el Evangelio nos deja preguntándonos si otros respondieron con la misma urgencia.

Sin embargo, el Evangelio nos habla del corazón de María: "María guardaba todas estas cosas, meditándolas en su corazón". Sin un plan paso a paso para criar al Mesías, María y José vivieron día a día en la fe, escuchando la guía de Dios en sueños y en las profundidades tranquilas de sus corazones. María abrazó el misterio que se desplegaba con amorosa confianza, repitiendo su "sí" a Dios incluso en la incertidumbre y el dolor, sin retirar nunca su fe.

Al honrar a María, la Madre de Dios, en este octavo día de Navidad, sigamos su ejemplo. Como María, reflexionemos sobre las acciones de Dios en nuestras vidas con confianza y obediencia y, como los pastores, acerquémonos con entusiasmo al pesebre, donde brilla el tierno amor de Dios. Abracemos también a María como nuestra madre, el precioso regalo que Cristo nos dio desde la Cruz, y pidámosle que nos guíe cada vez más cerca de su Hijo.
